Small steps, big difference

REGENT'S PLACE

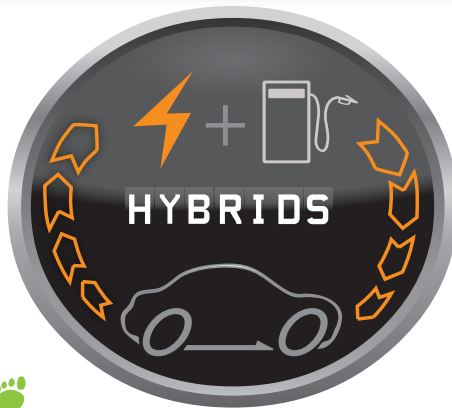

revolve
towards zero emissions™

What if...

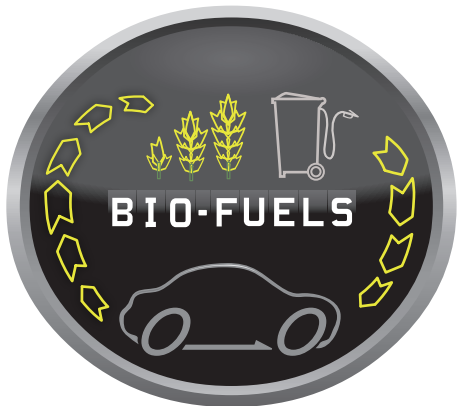

What if our electric cars produced zero emissions and could be re-charged anywhere in London for free

What if our cars were electric in the city and used conventional fuel to take us long distances at high speed

What if our cars were powered by hydrogen: the most abundant element in the universe, and water was the only emission

What if our organic waste could be turned into a transport fuel rather than going to landfill

What if we could cut costs and emissions without having to buy a new car

What if we wanted to be green and drive the latest cars without the hassle of ownership

...all this is possible now, see it at Camden's Green Motor Expo
